

Quantum Coherence in Energy Transfer and Conversion

Sep. 18-20, 2018

Beijing Computational Science Research Center

Welcome to the International Workshop on Quantum Coherence in Energy Transfer and Conversion, which will be held during Sep.18-20, 2018 at Beijing computational Science Research Center, Beijing, China. The objective of this workshop is to bring together leading theorists to explore the role of quantum coherence in non-canonical distribution, non-equilibrium transport, and energy conversion. The topic is inspired by fundamental studies of nano systems and by recent interest in light-harvesting devices and quantum electronics. The workshop will attract physicists, chemists, as well material scientists and will facilitate the interaction between CSRC and other institutes.
